Recruitment - Once the requirement of manpower is known, the process of recruitment starts. It is the process of identifying the sources for prospective candidates and to stimulate them to apply for the jobs. It is a positive process as it attracts suitable candidates to apply for available jobs. The process of recruitment and the cost involved in it depends on the size of the undertaking and the type of persons to be recruited. The sources of recruitment can be

a) Internal sources (recruitment from within the enterprise)

b) External Sources(recruitment from outside)

Selection -The process of selection leads to employment of persons who possess the ability and qualifications to perform the jobs which have fallen vacant in the organisation. Selection is frequently described as a negative process as it eliminates all the candidates those who do not match up to the requirements of the job offered. As the employees are placed in the jobs for which they are best suited, they derive maximum job satisfaction reducing the labour turnover and increasing the overall efficiency of the organization.

The candidates have to go through the whole selection process of an organization i.e. interviews, tests, medical examination
